EE Senior Projects
Fall 2023
Initial Individual Presentations

Your first assignment is to come up with a possible idea for a senior project, but something that you do not actually want to work on!

Prepare a three-minute to five-minute presentation describing your idea. Presentations will take place in random order during the second week of class. Each presentation will be followed by questions and/or comments from the rest of the class. Your presentation should not require any equipment that is not already in the classroom. You will be allowed to project slides, to use the board, or to bring handouts, but none of these things are required or expected. You should talk about the background of the idea, the potential usefulness of such a project, hurdles that anyone attempting to implement such an idea might face, etc.

The dual goals of this initial assignment are: (1) Get students used to talking and presenting in class; and (2) Suggest ideas for students and groups who do not already have a topic in mind for their projects.

We will almost certainly not have enough time for all students to present their ideas. Presentations will take place in a random order until we run out of time. This first assignment will not be graded, and you will not be penalized if you are not called on. However, you may be penalized if you are called on and you are not ready to present an idea!
